

The Horinko Group's Water Salon Series Sponsorship Opportunities

The Horinko Group's Water Division launches its series of Water Salons by hosting a different group of water resources professionals each quarter to define a problem or opportunity meriting deeper thought, creative problem solving, and careful planning. These quarterly Water Salons will introduce a new idea or approach to addressing a range of pressing issues in need of further exploration. Our group will facilitate the discussion through a well-designed meeting process to produce a clear problem statement and path forward for addressing the specific water issue of interest.

The Horinko Group's Water Salons will attract a broad audience of water leaders that are at key stations in critical water sectors. Sponsorships are imperative to the success and continuation of The Horinko Group's privately sponsored water resource forums. Your financial support demonstrates your commitment to timely and necessary water resources information exchange between water policy makers, public sector program administrators, practitioners, service providers, research institutions, educators, community leaders, and elected officials. An informed water resource community insures a sustainable water future for all of us. We encourage you to help nurture the water resource dialogue by considering the sponsorship opportunities presented:
